The Conference

Medical & Health Disaster Management Conference 2000 is designed to unite government and health care emergency management planners in building a coordinated response for disaster management through informative and interactive presentations.

This year’s conference offers attendees the opportunity to learn how to prepare and respond as a unified emergency management community, ensuring public health and safety from the threats and dangers associated with earthquakes and HAZMAT incidents.

Who Should Attend

- Pre-hospital care responders and coordinators
- Safety officers
- Risk managers
- Emergency department medical directors
- Disaster coordinators
- Emergency department nurse managers
- Government agency emergency/disaster officials
- Disaster-related volunteer organizations

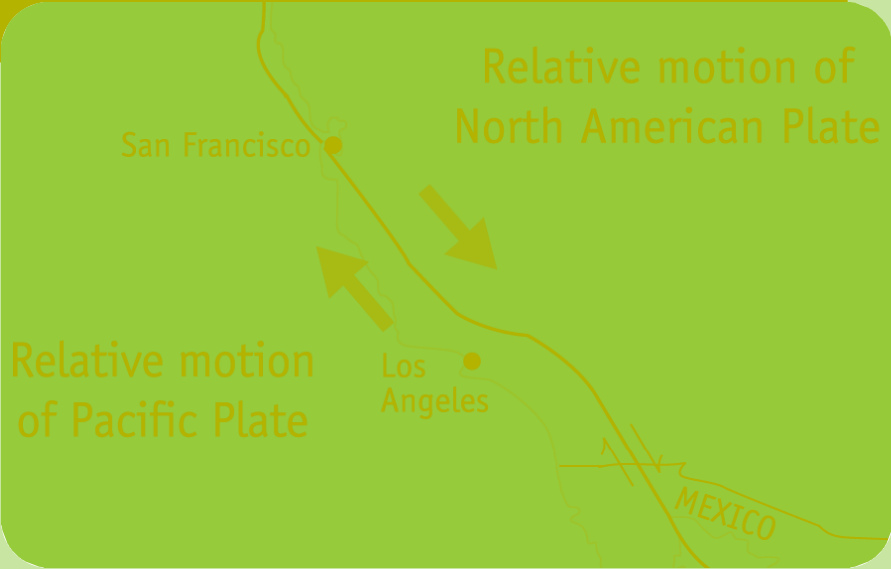

Continuing Education Credits

This two day program has been approved for 11.5 Contact hours from the California Board of Registered Nursing (CEP #970) and from the California pre-hospital CE (Provider #94-001), for 14 hours.

The Objectives

At the conclusion of the conference, participants will be able to:

- Identify the “real” threat of earthquakes in California
- Discuss the public and governmental roles in disaster management
- Assess personal preparedness for a disaster
- Identify the unique challenges facing children in disaster
- Discuss the new disaster-related laws and regulatory requirements
- Plan and participate in the November 9, State of California medical and health disaster exercise
- Implement the Hospital Emergency Incident Command System (HEICS)
- Learn how HAZMAT conditions may affect medical facilities
